

What is a BAS?

A BAS is a form issued by the Australian Tax Office (ATO) to businesses that are registered for Goods and Services Tax (GST). It reports the GST a business needs to remit to the ATO, other business tax obligations, and pay as you go instalments on a periodic basis.

When will I need to prepare one?

If you are required to be registered for GST, then you will need to report your BAS regularly on either a monthly or quarterly basis – please see our Fact Sheet “Information for Small Businesses” about whether you need to register for GST.

How do I prepare a BAS?

A record of business Sales, GST collected, Purchases and GST paid will be required to prepare a BAS. Please see our Fact Sheet “Record Keeping” for more information about recording this information.

What are Sales?

Sales in a business are activities generating income. There are three types of sales you may encounter in carrying out your business and must be reported; these are:

- Taxable sales - sales with GST payable.
- GST-free sales - sales with no GST payable and you may claim GST credits.
- Input-taxed sales - sales with no GST payable and you may not claim GST credits.

For more information about these types of sales, please visit the ATO website:

What are Purchases?

Purchases is what the business buys in order to earn income. There are three types of purchases to report in a BAS:

- Purchases with GST - GST credits can be claimed for the GST paid if they relate to earning Taxable sales and GST free sales.
- Purchases without GST or – GST credits cannot be claimed.
- Mixed purchases where GST is included partially: only the GST paid on purchases can be claimed.

How do I lodge a BAS?
