

---

---

“You can’t put a dollar value on [people], so you write them off, but they have great value. ... They contribute to their neighbours in so many ways. There’s a perception that you live on public housing and everybody’s crime ridden and it’s horrible but that’s not my reality of it. I know my mum has great neighbours who she looks after, who look after her, you know there’s

