Are you interested in innovation? There is an exciting opportunity for two high-quality candidates to participate in two world leading projects being conducted in Sydney Australia.

Projects

1. Developing new innovative technological devices for the assessment and treatment of Cervical Myelopathy and Normal Pressure Hydrocephalus
2. Using new innovative technological devices to help clinicians assess, treat and monitor patients with back and neck pain conditions.

Eligibility

1. Must be eligible to complete a Masters or PhD at one of the participating Universities
2. Have completed or be completing a biomedical engineering or health related degree.

What is required?

1. Submit a 3[illegible]

Photo from: https://www.istockphoto.com/illustrations/virtual-health-care