2.4 Relationship between course and program learning outcomes

3. Strategies and approaches to learning

3.1 Learning and teaching activities

The aim of the lectures is to give you the opportunity to learn about the content, issues, and theories in the major topic areas of modern psychology. Psychology 1A covers the following topics:

Psychological and clinical perspectives; Psychological development of the individual; How human beings interact and influence each other in social situations; Personality, individual differences and their measurement; Emotion and motivation; The impact of psychological factors on physical health; Cultural psychology.

Each topic will be given by one or two different lecturers, so that you will have the benefit of their different specialised interests and

You must attend the tutorial in which you are enrolled for the duration of the session; you are not allowed to arrange with a tutor to change tutorial. Attendance at tutorials is a necessary part of the course and tutorial content is examinable. Attendance at face to face tutorials is essential in accordance with UNSW Assessment Implementation Procedure. Additionally, it is the University policy that students who attend less than 80% of their possible classes may be refused final assessment or may not be eligible for a final grade for the course. If you are unable to attend your scheduled tutorial in a given week for medical reasons, contact your tutor (see contacts on Pages 2 & 3) and the Course Administrator on psycholog@unsw.edu.au.

There are strict University regulations on class sizes so it is no permissible to simply attend an alternative tutorial, without first getting approval. Once approved, you should inform the tutor of the alternative class about your attendance on the day, as well as inform your own tutor by email. You should not attend alternative tutorials other than in exceptional circumstances and with approval, as it could significantly impact your assessment. There is, however, one exception: if you are enrolled in a tutorial that is affected by a public holiday, you must attend another tutorial that week. Ensure that you arrange this in advance. If you are enrolled in a Friday tutorial and cannot attend university due to illness, a replacement tutorial is not possible. Ensure that you submit a medical certificate to your tutor so that your attendance is explained on your record. Where possible, material from the tutorial will be published on Moodle for revision purposes.

Unless specifically identified as being voluntary, all class work set during a course must be completed. Failure to do so will be recorded as 'unsatisfactory class work'. Because the assignments are designed to assess key student learning outcomes of the course, as stipulated by the Australian Psychological Accreditation Council (APAC), failure to complete one of these may result in performance below that required for accreditation, and you may be refused admission to other Psychology courses.

Students registered with Disability Support Services must contact the course co-ordinator immediately if they intend to request any special arrangements for later in the course, or if any special arrangements need to be made regarding access to the course material. Letters of support must be emailed to the course coordinator as soon as they are made available.
