as reflecting on your personal and professional knowledge, skills and attitudes (KSAs), are critical to professional development in any field (and should be compulsory for all health professions).

Level of Focus: 0 = No focus; 1 = Minimal/first-year; 2 = Moderate/second-year; 3 = Major/third-year; A = assumed (and not assessed here). The integrated acquisition of the graduate attributes, as partly indicated through assessment of the learning out

Demonstrates a broad and coherent body of knowledge of psychology, with depth in the underlying principles and concepts, and an appreciation of the value of applying this knowledge as the basis for life-long learning.

Lectures will be provided by a variety of lecturers, who are specialists in their subject areas. Some will constitute core areas (e.g., research methods, ethics, history) and others will constitute applications of psychological principles to solving particular human problems, or take a more integrative approach across disciplinary boundaries. Please note that this approach but is to integrate the new knowledge into your personal

. Indeed, building this kind of capacity will be useful in your future career.

You are required to attend all lectures and practicals, and to meet all participation and assessment specifications. , lectures will be digitally recorded and made accessible via Moodle, but this is not guaranteed.

. Permission to miss a practical will only be granted in extenuating circumstances and will require documentation (eg medical certificate). Inadequate attendance (less than 100% of all sessions) of practical classes may result in failure to pass the course (whether or not you have medical certificates or other documentation). If you are unable to attend practicals because of sickness or other circumstances outside your control, this may be grounds for special consideration to drop the course without failure.

Practicals will involve interactive activities that will extend lectures and assist in the development of learning outcomes, and are an essential and compulsory part of this course. To benefit from and to contribute to practicals, preparation and completion of any set work is critical. Material relevant to the group assignments will be presented and discussed in practicals. Your attention is also drawn to the following:

Your practical session time: You must attend the practical session to which you have been allocated. It will not be possible to switch or change practical classes once allocations are finalised.

Practical session attendance. Attendance will be recorded at the beginning of every practical. Those not on the class roll for that practical will be asked to leave, and all absences will be recorded.

For every 6-credit-unit course, you are expected to spend an average of this includes class-time, outside class-time group work, data-gathering exercises, and the normal study time necessary to adequately complete assignments and examination study. As a candidate in a full-time program,

Remember, the semester times are quite short (final examinations will be upon you before you know it), so it is your
