

Course Outline

PSYC5115

Graduate Certificate in Child Development

Developmental Psychopathology

School of Psychology

Faculty of Science

[Term, Year]

Last updated: [5/07/2021 12:43 PM]

1. Staff

Position	Name	Email	Consultation times and locations	Contact Details
Course Convenor

2. Course information

Units of credit:	6
Pre-requisite(s):	Program Pre-Requisite: Bachelor's degree of any kind (Australian Qualification standard or equivalent)
Teaching times and locations:	Online

2.1 Course summary

This course will provide an in-depth examination of the most common developmental disorders affecting children and adolescents, including attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), conduct disorder (CD), oppositional defiance disorder (ODD) and eating disorders (ED)

4. Course schedule and structure

---

Each week this course typically consists of 2 hours of lecture material, 2 hours of face to face tutorials, 4.5 hours of online activities and 4.5 hours of readings. Students are expected to take an additional 4-5 hours each week of self-determined study to complete assessments and undertake exam preparation.

Week	Lecture topic/s	Tutorial/lab topics	Online modules	Self-determined activities
Week 1	Attention-Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder
Week 2	Conduct Disorder, Oppositional-Defiance Disorder, and Psychopathy
Week 3	Eating Disorders
Week 4	Autism
Week 5	Learning Disabilities
Week 6	What is and isn't a disorder

